EDITORIAL

BAD PRECEDENT

We are of the opinion, that the state has no right to say to a dentist how he shall word a notice he cares to insert as a paid ad in a newspaper. Yet just that is sought in a bill now before the general assembly.

We have no personal ax to grind as we have never carried dentist's notices in this paper. We protest on the ground of the principle involved. If a dentist's notice can be dictated from Richmond, so might the notices of the butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker. If a certain dentist is willing to do a piece of bridgework for a certain price, he certainly has a right to so advise his clients. To say that he cannot do so through the medium of the newspaper his clients is to make him use the United States mails to so tell them by letter. If the now advertising dentist wish to make way on their competitors, the procedure is certainly not that they are now undertaking. Let them seek more stringent regulation of issueing permits to practice, and they will gain more solid support. The present bill is a childish effort to coax the assembly into setting a dangerous precedent.

A FINE TRIBUTE

We are sure we speak for the people of the eleventh state senatorial district when we express our appreciation for the formal tribute paid the late beloved state senator L. Ferguson Monday by the members of the present senate.

So touching were the sentiments expressed, that we hasten to offer the suggestion that the addresses by his colleagues be printed in booklet form, together with a sketch of his life, and offered to the public as a keepsake.

No less than 24 patrons have sponsored the pari mutual horse racing bill before the assembly. In Richmond Monday, the editor of this paper was assured that this bill would not pass, but on a matter in which moral issues are so clearly drawn, we suggest a few letters to friends in the assembly asking them to oppose the measure.

Lady's Painful Trouble Helped By Cardui

Why do so many women take Cardui for the relief of functional pains at monthly times? The answer is that they want results such as Mrs. Herbert W. Hunt, of Hallsville, Texas, describes. She writes: "My health wasn't good. I suffered from cramping. My pain would be so intense it would nauseate me. I would just drag around, so sluggish and 'dopless.' My mother decided to give me Cardui. I began to mend. That tired, sluggish feeling was gone and the pains disappeared. I can't praise Cardui too highly for what it helped me." . . . If Cardui does not help YOU, consult a physician.

ANNOUNCES $25-A-MONTH TIME PAYMENTS AND A NEW UCC 6% FINANCE PLAN

Any New Ford V-8 Car
Can Now Be Purchased for $25 a Month with Usual Low Down-Payment

THIS $25-a-month time-payment plan enables you to buy a New Ford V-8 car through your Ford dealer on new low monthly terms.

After the usual low down-payment is made, $25 a month is all you have to pay for any type of new car, including insurance and financing.

Your cost for this extension of credit is only ½ of 1% a month on your original unpaid balance and insurance. This plan reduces financing charges for twelve months to 6%. For example, if you owe a balance of $400 for your car and insurance, you pay $24 for the year of credit; if the balance is $200 you pay $12. Your credit cost for one year is the original unpaid balance multiplied by 6%.

UCC plans provide you with insurance protection at regular conference rates. You have not only fire and theft insurance, but $50 deductible collision, and protection against other accidental physical damage to your car.

The Universal Credit Company has made these plans available through all Ford dealers in the United States.

FOR EXAMPLE —

NOT a single railway passenger was killed in a train accident during 1935! In snow, in rain, in heat; day and night; across mountain, plain and desert AND million passengers were carried 18 billion, AOO million miles over the railways of the United States without a single fatality!

A shining example of what can be done and what is being done in travel safety.

Compare the railways' great achievement with the safety record of our public highways—36,400 men, women and children killed in motor vehicle accidents during 1935.

The remarkable accomplishments of the railroads and their employees in accident prevention and safety, didn't just happen. Behind their records are years of planning, the expenditure of hundreds of millions of dollars for new and safer equipment, safer operation and practices; unceasing vigilance, constant education. Here is one example:

For the protection of the public, the Norfolk and Western Railway, within a recent ten-year-period, spent $3,400,000 for the elimination of highway grade crossings on its lines. Yet, the public and public authorities are continually opening new highways and streets across the railway's tracks. The railroad has spent more than $780,000 for the installation of protective devices at crossings. It spends approximately $240,000 annually for the maintenance of these devices and the pay of gatemen and watchmen. Despite these huge expenditures for the protection of the public despite the railways' continuous campaign to educate the public to "stop, look and listen" almost one-fourth of all the grade crossing accidents on the Norfolk and Western during 1935 were due to automobiles being driven through into the sides of trains. In addition, 110 automobiles were driven through and broke down N. & W. crossing gates which had been lowered to protect them against approaching trains.

The tragic and utterly useless destruction of life on the public highways and at railway grade crossings can and must be stopped. It is going to take system and organization; tireless and intelligent spreading of the gospel of caution and safety first. You and every other citizen of the nation must help. The exercise of caution on your part may save your life. What you say to a friend may save his life.

The railroads have set an unprecedented example in safety. You must do your part.

TALE OF TWO CITIES — FROM THE MOTION PICTURE BASED ON THE NOVEL BY CHARLES DICKENS

In the year of 1789 in England, Sydney Carton is talking to Lucie Manette one night after dinner. A sudden lightning storm brings reminder of the smouldering fire of Revolution in France. Carton expresses his undying loyalty to Lucie, "I'd give my life for you or yours" he says to her.

And it is while the words are passing his lips that the first great uprising of the Revolution begins. "Down with the Bastille!" the tattered crowd shouts and with a tremendous roar they move toward the towering stone prison, the very prison in which Lucie's father, Dr. Manette, had spent eighteen tortured years of his life. That this had been due to the accusation of the Marquis of Evremonde, uncle of her husband Charles Darnay, Lucie does not know, although her father does. On the crowd rushes, hate of centuries of evil vengeance on their lips until finally they are at the drawbridge of the prison. "Make way for the people!" an orator shouts at the Swiss Guards. Then a mighty cry shout of rage bursts from the people as the Guards begin to raise the drawbridge. The crowd pushes forward and attacks the Guards with a great onslaught. Bayonets flash in the sun and musket shots ring out, mingling with the moans and cries of the wounded.

Then all is dark . . . quiet! The French Guards are mu . . . Madame DeFarge, an old friend of the Manettes, ters fiercely to herself, "Victory must be ours."
